Oklahoma City—Arraignment of J. C. Watson, depressed governor, indicted yesterday, was today, Nov. 23, before Judge George W. Clark in state district court. Dr. A. F. Davenport, state health commissioner, and P. J. Edwards, the former governor's chauffeur, indicted with him, will enter pleas at the same time. All have made bond for appearance.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Oklahoma City—Ku Klux Klan supporters emerged victorious in their first test of strength in the state senate when the upper house voted late yesterday to strike from the proposed anti-lynch measure under consideration, a section which would have compelled secret organizations in Oklahoma to file their membership lists for public inspection.

Proponents of the section declared that by its defeat the senate would fail to enact anti-lynch legislation with "teeth" in it, although they took some consolation in the passage of a provision requiring officers of secret organizations to register their names with county authorities.

The action on the membership clause came at the close of a day filled with dramatic debate, in which members of both factions came out openly in support of their convictions, precipitating verbal clashes unrelieved in bitterness during the present extraordinary session.

Enemies of the Klan denounced it as being founded upon racial hatred and religious intolerance and described it as a "revival of the organization of reconstruction days" which was strongly condemned. Its friends defended it as a righteous organization upholding "law and order in the midst of crime."

Intelligence charged Senator Harry Gibson of Enid, who led the attack on the Klan, with the organization for its operations under the mask and declared in an impassioned speech that "the question of intolerance has no place in democracy."

"I wonder," he asked, "if the Jew and Catholic buddies of some of our own senators here, giving their full measure of devotion in the mud and blood of France, thought that in five years their fathers and mothers would be called un-American?"

More than half the army commanded by Washington and Lafayette at the birth of the republic would be called un-American, the Enid Senator declared. He himself, is a protestant.

Law Defender, Reply
Announcing that at the beginning of yesterday's session he had been warned that a "certain organization" would take care of him if he did not change his tactics, the Enid Senator declared, "was a small matter," and added, in reply to a personal attack upon him by a member of the opposing faction in the senate:

"I do not fear that a vote cast for the perpetuity of American institutions will mean my political downfall."

SELL LAST YEAR'S FUR COAT.

Someone who does a great deal of traveling and who has a long way to walk to work will appreciate the opportunity to buy a used fur coat at a fair price. Perhaps you want a new coat and do not feel that the old one merits expending a large sum of money for something more up-to-date. And yet you do not enjoy wearing the old coat.

The Gazette want ad page is just the place to advertise that coat. Your want will reach the eyes of over 50,000 people and surely, out of that lot, there is someone who wants what you have.

Miss M. believes that the Gazette can sell for her. Why? Just listen. She inserted the following ad in the Gazette for three days:

MUSKRAT COAT FOR SALE—Very beautiful skin. Very cheap. Size 38 or 40. Phone. W or call at 403... St.

She had as many as one hundred calls for that coat. You can plainly see that the market for fur coats of a desirable type is certainly not slack. Miss M. wishes you had been tried to sell yours. Yes, but you have not given the public time to try again with a different style and a little different wording, and you are sure of success.

Hotel in Uproar, as Police Throw Bombs at Madman

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Chicago—Guests of the Hotel Sherman scuffled for cover Friday night while 30 policemen and detectives, with tear bombs and revolvers, assaulted a room on the fourth floor in which Roy Hendrickson of Shawnee, Okla., had barricaded himself.

Hendrickson, who says he was a member of former Governor Watson's Oklahoma secret service, suddenly became defiant and fired several shots at the officers before the tear bombs, thrown through the window, forced him to a window. The officers broke open the door and took him, fighting and protesting, to a hospital.

Several hours before the shooting Hendrickson telephoned a Chicago newspaper asking that a reporter be sent to get a story about his being robbed by a police captain. When the reporter came to his room Hendrickson locked the door and told him to stay there all night because "something was going to happen."

The reporter, by a ruse, eluded Hendrickson and called the police. With three sergeants and the house detective, he went to Hendrickson's room. The demand of officers for admittance was answered by bullets through the door. A concerted attack was made when reserve officers arrived.

French Warfare
A bullet proof shield of steel behind which two officers were sheltered as they moved in before them was used by detectives in the assault. After the door was burst open, the officers followed the shield into the room and overpowered Hendrickson, who was prevented from escaping through the window by officers in the court below, with revolvers.

Guests thought the place had been raided. With tears inspired by the bombs streaming from their eyes, they made frantic efforts to hide valuables, until hotel officials and the officers restored calm.

SCHUMANN TAKES BLAINE TO TASK FOR SPEECH HERE

ENTHUSIASTIC TALKER BUT EVASIVE DOER, SAYS SENATOR.

"DRIFTING POLICY"

Governor Sabotaged Only Opportunity for Tax Bill, Declares Solon.

Watertown—Senator John C. Schumann of this state senatorial district characterizes the speech of Governor John J. Blaine at Janesville as being far from the truth in the statements referring to the action of those who opposed his tax bill. The statement by Schumann follows:

One of the fair criticisms that can be made of Gov. Blaine (and this holds true from the time he assumed office) is that he is very progressive and aggressive and enthusiastic on the political stump, but hating and timid and evasive when he has the real opportunity to do something for the taxpayers,—during a session of the legislature,—during the action of the legislature. The drifting and do nothing policy which the governor pursued during the last two sessions of the legislature is in strange contrast to the strenuous attitude he assumes when he goes out to make political speeches.

SUPERVISORS MAY BE PAID MILEAGE

Dunwiddie Is Given Important Ruling by Attorney General.

A ruling by the attorney general has been made regarding the per diem pay and mileage of the Rock county board of supervisors, who at the last meeting voted to increase the pay of supervisors from $1 to $5 a day. The opinion was obtained by District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie, Janesville.

The Wisconsin legal department ruled that the rate of compensation of $5 a day for county board members does not include a mileage allowance and such an allowance may be paid in addition to the regular compensation at the discretion of the board. The opinion states that it was not the intention of the board to limit the supervisors to a per diem allowance.

The resolution to increase the pay of the supervisors and allow mileage of 6 cents per mile was passed a week ago by a vote of 23 to 21, the chairman casting the deciding vote.

SHOOT SELVES AT GRAVE OF AVIATOR SON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Herry-sur-Vie, France—Baron and Baroness Emmanuel de Montigny shot themselves dead yesterday on the grave of their aviator son, Pierre, who was killed here in an air fight in 1918.

The couple attended, as was their custom, an anniversary mass at the parish church, for the repose of their son's soul. They told the deputy mayor, with whom they were to lunch, that they were going to visit the grave and, when they failed to arrive at his home at the designated hour, he went in search of them. Baron and Baroness lay dead across the grave, with their heads on each other and beside each body lay a small pistol.

Placed to the baron's hat was a brief letter of the deputy mayor, saying he and his wife had decided to live for and had decided to die.

NOTHING BRIGHT IN HIS FUTURE

Rail President Tells of Fighting Jim Hill With Rifles, Bayonets

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Minneapolis—How he chartered a special train, took 25 men, with a case of rifles and bayonets and tore up 1,600 feet of rails and ties that James J. Hill's men had just laid in the days when railroads were first laid in the Dakota territory, was told here last night by Frederick Douglass Underwood, president of the Great Northern.

Mr. Underwood told of the days of guerrilla railroad building in the northwest, when might and might were right, determined fighting. In his own words he told the tale of his fight in the eighties with Jim Hill "would fill a book."

"Jim and I were the best of friends," he said. "The only trouble was as started out to build a railroad on my grade, and, with a chuckle, 'I guess I hated it.'"

"Anyway, word came to me that Jim Hill was laying ties and spiking down rails on my grade. Of course, I said, 'like that, and decided to do something about it. I had been planning a hunting trip for some time, and I thought that would be as good a time as any to go. So I went to the Milwaukee depot and hired a coach and an engine, gathered about 25 huskies and went out shopping."

"I bought a case of Springfield smooth and a bushel basket of revolvers, and had them sent to the train."

"We went on our hunting trip and nobody knew what we were up to. When we arrived the crew of 300 were just picking up and getting on to the cars to leave. They left a 'big guard' of six men behind."

"We sneaked along to where the new railroad was being spiked down and I can tell you we were a sight. Every fellow had a rifle and most of the rifles had bayonets. We all had revolvers stuck in our belts and pockets. I don't know to this day how we would have tackled those 400 'bunkies' if it came to a show down."

"After we took command of the new line, of course, we had to move it out from our right of way. Neither of us had the right to the land, so we were just exercising the privilege of squatters' rights, and our squatter had squatted on the other."

GERMANY CLOSE TO SMASHUP, IS BELIEF IN LONDON

WAIT NEXT MOVE

Impossible to Foresee What Will Come Following Stresemann Fall.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
London—The downfall of the Stresemann government is viewed here as an event of the utmost significance, possibly involving developments destined to have a deep and lasting effect on all Europe.

"The condition of Germany today is infinitely worse than it has been at any moment since Germany became a German republic," Times says. "The outlook in the present circumstances is a mere form and fiction, and through it common anarchy yesterday reared its verdict. What will happen now is almost an insurmountable problem for Stresemann, Ebert and their associates, and it is a very serious problem for all the world."

German public opinion is breaking up. Berlin dispatches to the London newspapers agree it is impossible to foresee what administration is to follow. Dr. Stresemann, in his talk with the newspaper, said he had been historically on the German parliamentary system. He also referred with considerable feeling to the recent allied note concerning the former crown prince, the tone of which, he said, "brought a flush of shame to the cheek of every German."

Dr. Stresemann again defended Frederick William, whom he described as a man with a strong sense of political responsibility and great capacity.

BUILDING-LOAN ASS'N PROSPERS

Assets Doubled in 11 Months—
45 Loans Made So Far in 1923.

Doubling its assets in less than 11 months and giving loans which have resulted in 45 new homes being erected in Janesville since Jan. 1, 1923, is the remarkable record of the Janesville Building and Loan Association. The figures are as follows: Jan. 1, 1923, assets $100,000; Nov. 1, 1923, assets $200,000. The association was organized by J. T. Hammarlund, secretary, who takes entire charge of this fast growing business.

Figures on an average cost of $6,000 a home, the total value of homes erected in 1923 through loans given by the Janesville association comes $270,000. Nearly others of the 45 loans made this far this year have made it possible for Janesville residents to buy homes in which they are living or pay up mortgages which covered their property.

The 45 loans in 11 months are more than all given up to Jan. 1, 1923, from the start of the organization in 1920. The total loans now made are $33,000. The organization is backed up by 200 investors who have either paid up stock or are paying for it on the installment plan, for one of three reasons—at an investment, the stock paying a 6 per cent interest; as prospective home builders in the future; or to pay off a mortgage. Payments on stock are coming in at the rate of $1,000 a month, said Mr. Hammarlund.

GOODALL TO BUILD $3,500 STATION

Will be Fifth Corner Filling Station on Milwaukee Street.

A fifth corner filling station for the main street of Janesville's business district became assured Friday when the Goodall Oil company, Detroit, Janesville and Clinton, started building operations on the Loveloy property at the corner of West Milwaukee and South High streets, where the Brittingham & Hixon lumber yards were formerly located. The site is held in the name of the Franklin Land & Timber company and has been leased by the Goodall company.

A $3,500 station is planned, to consist of a two-story drive and a brick building, 12x15.

Plans Held Up. T. B. Goodall, Detroit, head of the concern, planned to build on this corner last spring but postponed construction because of the zoning ordinance, which prevented corner filling stations from having drive-ways on more than one street. The ordinance has been changed recently, however, so he intends to go through with his original plans.

A building permit for the job was issued Thursday and the tract was staked out Friday. The Wadham's Oil company's new filling station at the corner of West Milwaukee and Locust streets is nearing completion.

Two New Houses. Other building permits issued this week were:

New houses—Otto Erdman, 1818 Josephine street, $2,800; frame dwelling, 22x26; Emil Schultz, 400 Bennett street, $2,500; frame dwelling, 21x36.

Additions—William Heise, 522 Monroe street, $280; and Mrs. W. W. Commons, 555 Eastern avenue, $200.

TURKEY DINNER TO COST PLENTY

Chicken However Will Cut Thanksgiving Meal 81 Cents a Plate.

"If it wasn't for the turkey our dinner wouldn't cost us very much," say the housewives. But as a small turkey weighing only 10 pounds is apt to be worth $6, the financial aspect of the meal is considerably changed. If figures don't lie, the cost of a good home cooked dinner for 10 persons will be something like $1.85 per person, if turkey is served.

The estimate runs as follows: Ten pounds of turkey, an average size, at 50 cents per pound, $5; a pound of cranberries, 15 cents; half peck of potatoes, 12½ cents; a homemade mince meat pie, 35 cents; quart of ice cream, 50 cents; two pounds of sweet potatoes, at 4 cents, 8 cents; olives or pickles, 25 cents; fruit, 50 cents; a stalk of celery, 15 cents; candy and nuts, 50 cents; half pound of butter at 55 cents, 25 cents; a loaf of bread, 12 cents; 10 cents' worth of coffee; a bottle of cream, 15 cents; and a half pound of sugar, 5 cents.

This brings the total up to $9.27.

Now substituting two eight-pound chickens at 27 cents per pound, or $2.16, for the turkey (as chickens or something else undoubtedly will be substituted in the majority of families), the cost per person will be brought down to $1.04, a difference of 81 cents.

To substitute duck in the menu it would cost $1.24 per plate. Of course the amount of potatoes would be cut in half and the sweet potatoes doubled. Ducks are 29 cents per pound.

Poultry prices last year were very near those of 1922. Meat costs, as is usual, make up the largest part of the expense. The 11 items excluding potatoes, total only $2.55, or 59 cents per person.

(By Associated Press)

Washington—President Coolidge today began the polishing of his forthcoming message, to congress, which many observers believe will have an important bearing on his future political fortunes. He completed the main part of his work on the document yesterday and all that remains to be done before it is sent to the printer is the clarifying of the language of several sections.

The message is expected to be brief. White House officials having made it known that the president intends to present his recommendations without long argument or discussion, but on the basis of what he feels to be his intrinsic soundness. Little is known of the details of the message, but it is generally thought that its principal sections will deal with taxation, agricultural relief and transportation.

MOTORISTS

Long service and satisfactory operation depends largely on HOW a car is cared for and driven. This is the fourth of a short series of articles by an expert automobile engineer, who shows you how to care for and drive your car.

Preparing to Start the Engine

If, when you step on the starter button, the engine does not start right away, do not immediately jump to the conclusion that there is something wrong with the carburetor or ignition, and start tinkering with them.

An engine will start promptly if all controls are set correctly and ignition system and carburetor are in order. For those drivers who have not as yet had a very lengthy automobile experience, the following instructions will prove helpful.

Before you step in the driving seat, see that you have sufficient gasoline in the tank, examine the oil level indicator to see that you have enough oil in the crank case, take off the radiator cap and assure yourself that there is sufficient water in the radiator.

Where to Set the Ignition and Spark Levers and the Carburetor Choke

After inspecting as above, get into the driving seat. First, grasp the gear shift lever and make sure it is in neutral by seeing that it can be moved freely to and fro. Turn the ignition switch ON; set the throttle lever in the position you keep it when the car is traveling about fifteen miles an hour on the road. This is usually about 1 1/2 inches up on the quadrant. The distance you pull out the choke button will depend largely on the kind of carburetor you have and the way it is tuned up. If the carburetor is set with a very lean mixture, then the choke button may have to be pulled right out for the first few revolutions of the engine, then kept about half way out until the engine is warmed up. If, on the other hand, the carburetor is set to deliver a fairly rich mixture, then you may not require to use the choke at all, excepting when the weather is very cold. The best way to use the choke is to pull it in and out quickly while you step on the starting button, pushing it in as soon as the engine commences firing.

Choke Should Be Used with Care

The excessive use of the choke can do serious damage to the engine. When the choke button is pulled right out, no air can enter the carburetor and practically raw gasoline is sucked into the cylinders. This gasoline is drained into the crank case, diluting the lubricating oil and destroying its usefulness as a lubricant to the engine. A new car owner sometimes wonders why the engine will fire for one or two revolutions, then stop! Very often this is caused by keeping the choke pulled out too long—choke the cylinders with a mixture that is so excessively rich that it will not fire. The choke should only be kept out for one or two revolutions, then pushed partly in. If the engine warms up sufficiently, push the choke button right in.

USE THE CHOKE FOR STARTING ONLY, AND WHEN DRIVING ALONG THE ROAD, BE SURE THAT IT IS PUSHED RIGHT IN. If your engine will not run unless the choke is pulled out part way all the time, then your carburetor requires adjusting.

Relieve Strain on Starter When Engine Is Cold

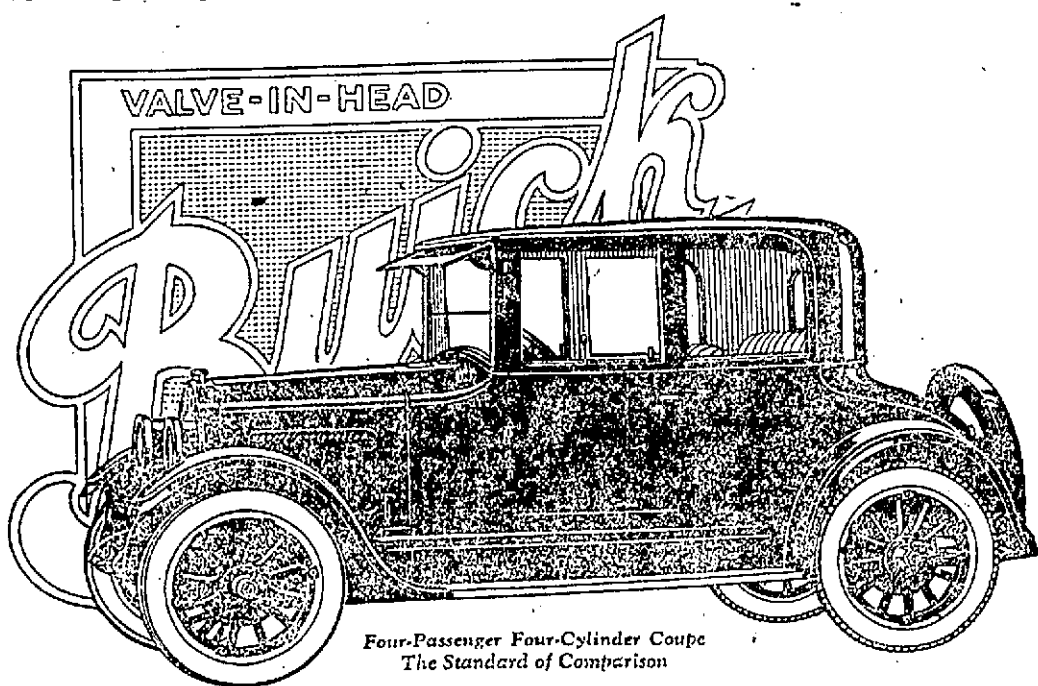

When the weather is at all cold, the oil in the cylinders practically glues the pistons to the cylinders, and the oil in the gear box gets quite heavy and thick. You can imagine, therefore, that when a starter has to revolve an engine in this condition a very severe strain is put on it. This strain can be relieved, as follows:

Before you step into the driving seat, take out your starting handle and pull the engine over three or four revolutions to free the pistons. After you have set your controls, but BEFORE you put your foot on the starter button, PRESS IN THE CLUTCH PEDAL. This will allow the engine to turn over quite freely.

Speeding Up Engine Should Be Avoided

Considerable damage is very often done to the engine when it is allowed to race up without a load. When you start the engine in the morning, most of the oil is drained to the bottom of the crank case, and it takes a half minute or so until the pump starts to circulate the oil to lubricate the bearings. If, when the engine starts, you do not at once close the throttle, to bring it down to a fairly slow speed, some of the bearings do not receive sufficient lubrication; and in a new engine you run the risk of seizing it up. When this happens, it may cost you from $50.00 to $100.00 to put the engine in good condition again.

ALWAYS, THEREFORE, CLOSE THE THROTTLE IMMEDIATELY the engine starts to fire, and NEVER allow it to run at an excessive speed shortly after it is started up.

"Here is the record that I am willing to stand upon: The following was of the legislative session, in which the governor had pursued a drifting policy which indicated that he showed no interest in the passage of a tax bill. Robert M. On Tuesday evening, May 22, 1923, a meeting, sanctioned by Governor Blaine, was held in the senate judiciary room. In the face of the fact that every progressive member had agreed to stand by the action taken by the conference, five friends of the governor voted against the finance committee bill and it was defeated in the senate by one vote. The senators who voted against the finance committee bill were Gary, Johnson, Kemp, Staudenmayer and Blighen. The governor and his five senatorial friends are the persons who must bear the responsibility for defeat of the bill.

"Filled by Opportunity—Governor Blaine has had a great opportunity to do something for the people of Wisconsin. He has failed because he is engrossed in political maneuvers to such a point that his brain for a program and a goal has been obscured.

"The trouble with Governor Blaine is that he has never had a program since the day he became governor. His progressivism runs to speeches and statements and press agent matter. When he is faced with a real progressive task, he retreats into a shell and lets things drift.

"The governor's attitude on the taxation question is in keeping with his record on other fundamental progressive questions. The governor, on the political stump, denounces militarism in general terms. This in the face of the fact that he signed appropriation bills that made Wisconsin the fifth military state in the union. I suppose those progressive members of the legislature who saved the state nearly $800,000 on national guard appropriations for the single year of Gov. Blaine's recommendation in his message that the state should continue to build its fortifications to the war lords at Washington also betrayed him.

The Home The Town Built

"THE HOME THE TOWN BUILT"

By J. C. Dionne

This is the home the town built.
This is the home so clean and neat
That adds so much to the looks of the street;
That makes the strangers wish that they
Could take it along when they go away.
And the neighbors are glad that everyone had
A hand in the home the town built.
This is the youth with pep and vim;
Clean, honest labor looks good to him;
He is the one who owns the place
As you can see by his satisfied face;
The property stands in his own name—
To "own a home" is plenty of fame—
And he takes part in the village biz,
To hold up the value of what is his,
For this is the home the town built.
This is the maid so filled with love,
Who makes the home like the Heaven above;
Her "work" is "play" the whole day long,
She fills the house with happy song.
For the house is new and clean, you see,
And just as convenient as it can be—
For this is the home the town built.
But what is this army that stands outside
And watches the house with looks of pride?
Why, they are the ones who helped to build
This HOME! No wonder with joy they're filled!
They, too, deserve their "place in the sun."
For it is a wonderful work they have done—
Constructing the home the town built.
First, the ARCHITECT drew the plan;
Then the lot was got from a REAL ESTATE MAN;
The LAWYER found that the title was right;
And the BANKER showed the money in sight.
The LABORER dug the cellar so deep;
And the MASON made the foundation to keep,
The base for the BRICKMASON'S solid wall
And the chimney above, so straight and tall.
The CARPENTER bought from the LUMBER
YARD

All manner of wood, both soft and hard,
To make the partitions, the shelves and the doors
The shady porch and the wide, smooth floors.
The ROOFER shingled (perhaps he tinned)
And the GLAZIER guarded 'gainst too much wind.
The PLUMBER saw that the water was right;
The GAS and ELECTRIC men handled the light;
The LATHER and PLASTERER covered the wall
And the PAINTER finished the last of all;
And then—deny it if you can,
They call in the INSURANCE MAN.

FLOOR PLAN NO. 1872

FLOOR PLAN NO. 1873

Plans No. 1872—1873
This beautiful home with its many unique details will at first create thoughts of boldness—the more you study it, however, the more fascinated you become with its distinctiveness, attractiveness and pleasing lines, and so firmly have these new creations entwined themselves around the hearts of the home builders and lovers of individuality, that they have literally transformed our western architecture, and today we find the building public unanimous in their opinion of them.

On these pages we are endeavoring to acquaint and advise you of timely and practical ideas and you are to feel at liberty to advise with the Home Building Editor regarding plans and building information.

But these are just the ones who build;
The house is empty and must be filled;
So the rest of the town then takes a part
To prove that each has a will and a heart
To make that house a HOME indeed—
And here is the rest of this jingly screed.
The FURNITURE man gives a table and bed,
A chair and a carpet on which to tread.
The DRYGOODS man provides the sheets
And towels and napkins for the eats.
The CROCKERY man sets up a cup
And a plate and dish from which to sup.
The CUTLERY man then gives the tools,
(Knife, fork and spoon) by fashion's rules.
The HARDWARE dealer would think it strange
If he could not provide the range
Together with many a pot and pan
That a woman needs to feed a man.
These are the men, if the house is small,
Who help to build, but they are not all.
If the maiden wants a PIANO to play,
An ALARM CLOCK to waken her early each day,
A VACUUM CLEANER, a PICTURE FRAME,
A FRONT DOOR PLATE, to hold her name,
Then others step into rank and file
To make her house a HOME WORTH WHILE;
For this is the home the TOWN built.
The GROCER, the BAKER, the seller of MEAT,
The MERCHANTS who handle all good things to eat;
The ICE and the MILK and the EGGS and the FOOD,
The COAL and the CLOTHES and the GAS and the WOOD;
The STOREKEEPERS handling all things she can use;
The EDITOR telling the latest news.
The PREACHER, the LAWYER, the DOCTOR, the JUDGE,
The MOWER OF LAWNS and the MAKERS OF FUDGE.
There's hardly a soul in the town, you will find,
Who hasn't some sort of connection to bind
His personal profit and happiness through
His part in constructing a "HOME" for just two.
And every HOME in the town is the same;
It's a wonderful work and a beautiful game!
The TOWN is the gainer as well as the pair,
For their comfort and ease make them permanent there.
And every new dwelling that opens its door
For a loving pair and their worldly store
Makes the town worth living in that much more—

FOR THIS IS THE HOME
THE TOWN BUILT!

Plan and Purpose of Community Service Department of the Janesville Daily Gazette

The purpose of the Community Service Department established by the Janesville Daily Gazette in the fall of 1922, and the first of its kind by any newspaper in the world, is cooperation with all community agencies to the end that the well-being of the people of Southern Wisconsin may be promoted to the greatest possible extent.

This purpose is carried out through interpretive publicity in the columns of the Gazette and personal service of wide scope by the community department.

Publicity includes feature stories, Community Comment articles and the Good Times club section for school boys and girls. Personal service is advisory, initiatory and cooperative in the interest of all phases of community welfare work, embracing social service, recreational, religious, educational and civic enterprises. It is non-political and non-sectarian. Its field is all territory in southern Wisconsin where the Gazette circulates.

During the first year of its existence the Community Service Department has given particular attention to cooperation with community clubs, women's organizations, parent-teacher associations and Farm Bureau home and community work. Through the Good Times club, an organization has been developed in connection with the schools, which both in its remarkable growth to a membership of 2,500 boys and girls, and in the type of service rendered is without a peer in the entire country.

Personal service was given during the year in connection with 79 community meetings, conferences and entertainments. This included 14 motion picture entertainments furnished by the Gazette, addresses at 39 gatherings, 6 community recreation programs and many community conferences, board and committee meetings which the community editor was invited to attend in an advisory capacity.

Entertainment material was furnished by mail to 11 community clubs, three churches and 43 schools. Directions for kite-making were furnished to 61 schools, and scrap book covers to 28 schools. Monthly recreation programs sent to school branches of the Good Times club totaled 480 copies. Summer recreation material sent to vacation reporters of school branches totaled 167 copies.

Community welfare projects organized directly were as follows:

COUNTY-WIDE OBSERVANCE OF GOOD HEALTH WEEK—October, 1922, with 17 meetings in Rock county arranged for Dr. Bowman, state board of health speaker.

BETTER COMMUNITY CAMPAIGN—Conducted in May, 1922, by Dr. William A. McKeever, noted writer and juvenile authority. DAY NURSERY IN JANESVILLE and reorganization of local work of Salvation Army on a more efficient basis. The cooperation of the City Federation of Women, Chamber of Commerce, other groups and many individuals was enlisted in behalf of the Day Nursery established at the Salvation Army headquarters.
